

Answer Questions 4-9:

1. What led James II to create the Dominion of New England? How did it restructure the governments of the New England colonies?

2. What was the Glorious Revolution? How did New Englanders' respond to it?

3. What might account for the sudden hysteria about witches in Salem during the 1690's?

4. How was British government structured? How did it attempt to represent each of British society's major class interests?

5. How did the reality of British politics deviate from its theoretical structure?

What were some of the main critiques of the British system as it was practiced?

6. In what sense did the American colonists see their local governments as modeled on the British system? To what extent was that perception accurate?

7. Why might Cato's Letters have been more popular in the American colonies than in Britain?

8. To what extent and in what ways was colonial government more democratic than British government?

9. According to John Locke what are the rights of man? From what source do those rights emanate?